

Overview of Curriculum

As Unitarian Universalists, we are the inheritors of a 50-year history of reproductive rights advocacy of which we should be very proud. We also share a strong commitment to racial and social justice that is fundamental to our theology and modern identity. At the convergence of these interests, UUs are called to answer the chilling political debate on reproductive rights with calls for reproductive justice and respect for the fullness of every person's reproductive and sexual life. This curriculum was¹ originally written in 2012 to prepare Unitarian Universalists to take on the call to action from the 2012-2016 Congregational Study/Action Issue, "Reproductive Justice: Expanding our Social Justice Calling". Political and social events since then have only heightened the need for advocacy of reproductive justice. This curriculum remains a milestone opportunity for Unitarian Universalists to live this call.

If we are to succeed as reproductive justice advocates in our communities and in the larger world, Unitarian Universalists must be comfortable with our individual and collective identities and know ourselves as partners with other organizations in the reproductive justice movement. Thus, this curriculum prioritizes the development of our theological understanding and conversational capacity, rather than the provision of facts. Political elections and events of the recent past and concurrent "war on women" is not as much a political argument over information and misinformation as it is a conflict of values about life, sexuality, and religious freedom, which is why we must answer as progressive people of faith.

Week 1: Introduction: What is Reproductive Justice?

Week 2: Sacred Sexuality

Week 3: Inherent Worth and Dignity

Week 4: Reverence for Life

Week 5: Right of Conscience

Week 6: Conclusion: Moving Forward

Rooting us in our religious history and theological callings, this six-week curriculum outlines the distinctions between reproductive "health," "rights," and "justice;" opens awareness of reproductive oppressions; offers opportunities to learn about ourselves and each other as sexual and reproductive beings; and equips us to move forward, out into the world, with integrity and vision.
